

Jeremiah David Tindall

"As a pastor, I know that music has come down from heaven above as God's good gift to mankind to lift up a person's mind & soul back toward the heavenlies. So the best thing I can say about Jeremiah's musical skills - vocal, instrumental, and compositional - is that they are uplifting."

David Diez – Pastor – Miami Bible Church

"Jeremiah is a very talented musician who is continuously willing to learn and work hard. What I appreciate most is that he dedicates his talent and musicianship to the Glory of God."

Greg Xiques – Music Minister – Miami Bible Church

Musician
Educator Entrepreneur Songwriter
Arranger

www.jeremiahdavidtindall.com
www.facebook.com/jeremiahdavidtindall/

Twitter: @TindallJeremiah
Instagram: @jeremiahdavidtindall

Jeremiah David Tindall - Bio

www.jeremiahdavidtindall.com

The eclectic nature of Jeremiah David Tindall's music reflects the wide array of experiences that culminate in his present compositions. His unique style is a blend of reggae, folk, and classical sounds, which are woven strands from the various elements of his musical background.

With an undergrad in Music from Knox College and a graduate degree in Music Business from the University of Miami, Jeremiah has formal training on violin, guitar, and piano along with first-hand experiences learning cultural music styles in Kingston, Jamaica and Mali, West Africa. Followed by seasons of work aboard tall ships, at summer camps, on organic farms, and inside a variety of blue-collar industries, his lyrical content incorporates the perspective of the working man and the adventurer. Resourceful and contemplative, his compositions merge cultures and styles that parallel his travels.

Jeremiah currently resides in Miami, FL and serves as the Site Director of Liberty City chapter for the Miami Music Project, a non-profit bringing orchestral opportunities to students in under-resourced communities throughout Miami-Dade County. He has worked in a variety of settings with youth including camp counseling, teaching, and after school programs.

Collaborating with Teaching Artists from the Miami Music Project and fellow musicians from his local congregation, Miami Bible Church, Jeremiah now seeks to advance the truth and light of the Scriptures to his audience through the joy of music as he brings years of experience and longstanding musical efforts to the table. While he serves the community of Liberty City and encourages children in their musical development, he writes and arranges original acoustic reggae music combined with a variety of classical chamber ensemble accompaniments. The sound is a natural outflow of the adventurous life he has lived and an expression of the Christian faith he holds dear.

For Booking/Publicity/Other Inquiries, please contact:

info@jeremiahdavidtindall.com

786.955.3303

289 Ne 80th Terrace, Miami, FL 33138

Projects and Ensembles

Jeremiah David Tindall and Company:

www.jeremiahdavidtindall.com

Jeremiah writes and arranges original reggae compositions for acoustic performance with chamber ensembles and performs at various locations through Miami-Dade County. He performs alongside various UM and FIU music graduates. Previous venues include the Little Haiti Cultural Center and the First Baptist Church of Hialeah. Seeking new venue opportunities, stay tuned for new locations to catch his original and dynamic performances.

Miami Music Project:

www.miamimusicproject.org

The Miami Music Project is a 501c3 non-profit organization that works to bring social transformation in various communities throughout Miami-Dade County by way of its after school and summer camp orchestra programs as it works in partnership with the Miami-Dade County Public Schools. Jeremiah is currently the administrative Site Director of the Liberty City chapter where he oversees around 80 students and 15 Teaching Artists in their weekly activities. Chapter students perform several times throughout the school year and learn a variety of wind and brass instruments.

Miami Bible Church:

www.miamibiblechurch.org

Jeremiah serves the music ministry team at Miami Bible Church on a monthly basis during their Sunday morning worship services. He serves alongside Music Minister, Greg Xiques and family, and regularly rehearses with musicians from Miami Bible Church for the edification and upliftment of the church.

Press Photos

Press Clippings

Thursday ■ April 20 ■ 2006

Mosaic | Arts
Entertainment
Campus Life

The Knox Student ■ 7

Jah Creation sets down roots in Knox culture with concert

By Alison Rashid
The Knox Student

On Friday, April 14 at 7 p.m. The Roots Go Deeper than You Know Jah Creation Concert was presented to Knox students. The concert was sponsored by the Union Board and Jah Creation and was open to the entire campus. It featured several Knox students performing songs written and composed by senior Jeremiah Tindall. The pieces performed included a mixture of blues, reggae, and classical elements.

Students who performed included John Haeber, Scott Knies, Melanie Hegan, Bryan Maranfeld, Jen Ewa, Alejandro Muzzio, Eric Ratzel, Chris Astwood, James Wetzel, Will Faber, Selena Jones, Danielle Racke, Luke Birch, Cathleen Beeson, Josephine van-

Frankenhuisen, and Anjalika Kapur.

Tindall had been writing these songs for the past two years and first began to prepare for the concert in January. He had spent the past trimester in Africa, and found music as a way to unleash his ideas about what he was exposed to during this time.

"I personally considered the concert a way to reflect on the difficulties of living for people in Africa and be thankful for the opportunities we have in America," Tindall said.

In addition, the concert promoted the ideas of Jah Creation and served as the starting point in Tindall's musical career. Through nearly three months of preparation, members were given an opportunity to work with one another for a common purpose and establish an idea that would grow to a reality.

Kresge Hall was filled with the sound of blues, poetry, reggae, and You Know. The music brought concert-goers to their feet in an

JAH CREATION UNION BOARD

AND THE ROOTS GO DEEPER THAN YOU KNOW.

AN EVENING OF MUSIC AT KNOX COLLEGE

FRIDAY, APRIL 14TH - 7 PM - KRESGE